Editorial Collective Report

It is fascinating to view the expansion of our journal reaching wider range of readers and authors. This year we got submissions from authors based in different parts of the world. The current issue publishes research reports, literature reviews and articles focusing on issues of gender around sexual harassment, patriarchy, son-preference, women's movements, and co-dependency.

The collective editorial looks forward to receiving more contributions on diverse issues. To contribute your work or for any queries, please contact Ambika Kohli at ambikakohli@hotmail.com
