Trench 1 was too unstable to allow entry, therefore it was not possible to conduct detailed examinations or collect undisturbed samples. The layer is shown from features visible only at the ground surface.

Trench 2 was briefly entered, and some sampling was carried out prior to collapse of the sides walls.